Course Description:
This integrative studies lecture class will discuss selected aspects of philosophy of culture by reflecting on the human condition and some aspects of humanism. In this vein, we will consider the following questions: What does it mean to be human, and why do we need the humanities?  How are the humanities differentiated from the natural sciences?  After introducing two traditional answers to the question of what human beings are, from the perspective of Augustine and Sartre, we will - from a general human point of view – reflect on central aspects of the human condition, such as religion, history, culture, and art, by studying Ernst Cassirer's An Essay on Man. Introduction to a Philosophy of Human Culture. In addition, we will discuss the need of the humanities and the human sciences for a proper understanding of human culture.  We will investigate the role that the arts play in this picture by first focusing on some basic aspects of the arts in general, such as the function of the arts and its connection to playing and festival, from the perspective of Hegel and Gadamer. After this, we will study selected examples in Modern Painting and Sculpture (e.g., Giacometti, De Kooning, Klee, Kandinsky, Rothko). Finally, we will discuss contemporary attempts to declare the end of humanism by reading Pinker's The Blank Slate. The Modern Denial of Human nature.

IAH Course Goals
Integrative Studies at MSU seeks to assist students to become more familiar with ways of knowing in the arts and humanities and to be more knowledgeable and capable in a range of intellectual and expressive abilities. IAH courses encourage students to engage critically with their own society, history, and culture(s); they also encourage students to learn more about the history and culture of other societies. They focus on key ideas and issues in human experience; encourage appreciation of the roles of knowledge and values in shaping and understanding human behavior; emphasize the responsibilities and opportunities of democratic citizenship; highlight the value of the creative arts of literature, theater, music, and arts; and alert us to important issues that occur among peoples in an increasingly interconnected, interdependent world.

Note

Real learning is not properly measured by multiple-choice tests; especially since in the humanities there is no specific content of a sort that may be covered well in standardized examinations, which every student in the humanities should be expected to master. Instead, you will - hopefully - come to recognize that philosophy as a general intellectual reflection on what we are and why we are here, deals with your dignity as human beings and with your intellect and reason, which is best expressed in a form of learning that is based on understanding and insight, and not mere learning by heart. It is hoped that the class will stimulate the view that intellectual activity (and therefore human reality) has to do with the passion of thinking, and the passion of understanding of our world.

Specific Course Goals

This lecture class should students introduce to

- two selected traditional views on human nature (Augustine, Sartre)
- the concept of the humanities and human sciences in opposition to the natural sciences
- the idea that human culture is the expression and objectification of human activity
- the concept of art as one major source and expression of human culture and human nature
- the purpose(s) of art (imitation, expression, perfection, truth)
- modern art as a confrontation with human nature and human culture (religion/Rothko, embodiment/De Kooning, symbol/Klee)
- selected modern artists and carefully selected works (Kandinsky, Giacometti, De Kooning, Rothko)
- the contemporary paradigm shift towards a destruction of the traditional cultural view of human beings and the biological impact on contemporary thinking about human nature

Required Texts

- Course Packet (Augustine, Sartre, etc)

Course Packet:

The course packet with additional copies (Sartre, Augustine, Klee) is available at Budget Printing Center, 974 Trowbridge Road, 517.351.1200; pick up your copy today!

Course Organization

The course will be organized such that, ideally, each class period will include [i] "interactive" lecture, [ii] discussion time or [iii] response session. Students will be asked to intensively prepare a certain text or part of a text for the next class period.

Course Requirements

- Daily Reading and Studying (around 5 pages)
- 2 pass/fail tests on your reading
- 1 group work assignment (paper preparation)
Note

The class and my lectures are solely based on the texts selected for class and require a thorough study and preparation of the material. I will primarily lecture on the readings, which will help you to more fully understand the texts. Therefore it is not sufficient for students to come to class without having prepared the texts. And indeed, the exams will test whether you have appropriately prepared the readings selected for each lecture.

Modern Art

Segment V will deal with carefully selected examples regarding the question of the connection between human nature and art. We will discuss mainly modern examples, especially paintings and sculptures. Please be aware that this is not an art appreciation class. Instead, the segment is based on considerations of ideas that underlie modern European and American art. Thus, you must do research on the artists and styles selected for this part of the class if you do not feel competent in the history of modern art. I highly recommend the Encyclopedia Britannica (full version, access through library).

Class Attendance

I hope and strongly encourage that students attend all classes. However, I will not require attendance, as I think that college students should manage their own class attendance decisions. nevertheless, please be aware that you should not make me responsible for a failure that results out of your decision. You should be aware that chances to master this class are minimal, if you do not show up for class or if you do not prepare the readings.

Response Sheets

Every student is asked to submit "response sheets" after my lectures. Every student can submit up to 5 response sheets over the course of the semester and every sheet that you turn in will count 2 points.

Click here to download the response sheet (Word document)

Note: I will only accept responses that are given on this form.

The submitted response sheets will be handed over to the TA, who will use them to address selected questions in his/her sections. This procedure will help you to clarify problems, reflect on topics, and to find answers to questions that came up during the lecture.

Response Sessions

In addition, selected classes will be held as "response sessions" (see schedule above). During those classes I will address questions that you submitted during the course of the lectures, in addition to which you will be able to formulate questions in class. The last 30 minutes of the response sessions are reserved for the brief tests.

Study Questions (new)

For additional help, please download these sets of study questions:

First set of questions (Augustine, Sartre, Cassirer)
Second set of questions (Pinker, Cassirer, Hegel)

Tests

There will be 2 tests, which will test whether you prepared the readings. You will not be able to answer the exam question(s) if you did not study the texts. The tests are pass/fail tests, and each exam counts ten points. Consequently, failing a test will bring your grade down by one grade.
Make-Up Exam

Students who need to miss an exam for excusable reasons must inform me ahead of time, and will be permitted to make up the exam. Students who do not excuse themselves ahead of time, fail the exam.

Paper Assignment

There will be one brief paper assignment (3-4 pages). The paper assignment should lead you to a reflection and consideration of what we have discovered on the theoretical level about human nature and human culture.

   Download paper assignment here (MS Word)

Preparatory Group Work Assignment

There will be one graded preparatory group work assignment in the discussion section that contains an exciting field trip to MSU's Kresge Art Museum as well as an oral presentation on art work (the TA will discuss with you the details of this assignment).

Participation

You will receive points for participation in your discussion section (see below).

Final Essay Exam

The final essay exam asks you to comment on a quote taken from one of the readings, and to relate the quote to the overall content of the class.

Course Evaluation

You will be evaluated on the basis of:

   Lecture:
   5 response sheets  10 points
   2 brief tests (pass/fail)  20 points
   1 final essay exam  30 points

   Discussion section:
   1 paper assignment  20 points
   1 group assignment  10 points
   Participation points  10 points
       --------
       100 points

Grading:

   4.0  99 – 90
   3.5  85 – 89
   3  80 – 84
   2.5  75 – 79
   2  70 – 74
   1.5  65 – 69
   1.0  60 – 64
   0.0  < 60

GENERIC SYLLABUS (might not be applicable to each class)

Class Attendance
As mentioned above, I do not employ in my classes a class attendance policy. Having said this, you should be aware that class attendance is very important. When engaging in a philosophical and humanistic dialogue it is necessary to be an active and present participant in the ongoing discussion. If you miss class please do not email me asking if you missed anything important. Every class is important. You should get a study buddy for the class; a student in class who will inform you of what you missed. An email referencing that you miss a class and want to know what you missed will result in 10 percent off your final grade score. If you miss a class you can come to my office hours or make an appointment to discuss the material, providing you have read the material and you simply want to see if your understanding of the material is on target. Time in office hours will not be used to repeat the class lectures.

Online Research Sources

Unfortunately, some people think that the internet as such is a reliable source of information. If you decide to use online sources for additional information or your paper then do not just use one of the common internet search engines, such as Google; rather, use reliable academic sources, such as Britannica Online, or the Stanford Encyclopedia of Philosophy. The Internet Encyclopedia of Philosophy isn't very good, but still acceptable. Check out MSU's library resources! And, as with other sources, you must cite any online sources to which you refer in your essay.

Writing Center Information

MSU's writing center offers excellent help on all matters regarding writing and learning. Check the website at http://writing.msu.edu for an overview and hours. For more information, please call 517.432.3610 or send an e-mail to writing@msu.edu.

Plagiarism

In any essay or exam answer submitted for assessment, all passages taken from other people's work must be placed within quotation marks, with specific reference to author, title and page. no excuse can be accepted for any failure to do so, nor will inclusion of the source in a bibliography be considered inadequate acknowledgement. If the marker decides that plagiarism has occurred, the student may be judged to have failed the class.

Academic Honesty

Article 2.3.3 of the Academic Freedom Report states that "The student shares with the faculty the responsibility for maintaining the integrity of scholarship, grades, and professional standards." In addition, the (insert name of unit offering course) adheres to the policies on academic honesty as specified in General Student Regulations 1.0, Protection of Scholarship and Grades; the all-University Policy on Integrity of Scholarship and Grades; and Ordinance 17.00, Examinations. (See Spartan Life: Student Handbook and Resource Guide and/or the MSU Web site: www.msu.edu) Therefore, unless authorized by your instructor, you are expected to complete all course assignments, including homework, lab work, quizzes, tests and exams, without assistance from any source. You are expected to develop original work for this course; therefore, you may not submit course work completed for another course to satisfy the requirements for this course. Also, you are not authorized to use the www.allmsu.com Web site to complete any course work in (insert course number here). Students who violate MSU rules may receive a penalty grade, including but not limited to a failing grade on the assignment or in the course. Contact your instructor if you are unsure about the appropriateness of your course work. (See also http://www.msu.edu/unit/ombud/honestylinks.html)
Accommodations for Students with Disabilities

Students with disabilities should contact the Resource Center for Persons with Disabilities to establish reasonable accommodations. For an appointment with a counselor, call 353-9642 (voice) or 355-1293 (TTY).

Drops and Adds

The last day to add this course is the end of the first week of classes. The last day to drop this course with a 100 percent refund and no grade reported is (insert date). The last day to drop this course with no refund and no grade reported is (insert date). You should immediately make a copy of your amended schedule to verify you have added or dropped this course.

Note on Attendance

Students whose names do not appear on the official class list for this course may not attend this class. Students who fail to attend the first four class sessions or class by the fifth day of the semester, whichever occurs first, may be dropped from the course.
